

My Circle of Contacts

The average Christian has regular contact with six to eight people who have not made a commitment to Jesus Christ as saving Lord or who are effectively unchurched—have not been to any church in the past three to six months, except possibly for a wedding or funeral. These persons become our circle of contacts for sharing the good news of faith and life in Jesus Christ.

Here is what to do with this form:

1. Identify those persons with whom you have regular contact and who you believe are not yet Christians or are unchurched. You may not know someone in each category... or you may know more than one in some. List the names of your contacts in the appropriate blocks.
2. Pray daily for each person. Ask God to show you particular needs in the lives of each one. Ask him to give you opportunities to build a closer relationship with one or more. Ask him to empower you with his Holy Spirit so you may be confident to speak about what your faith means to you. And ask him to reveal his Son to each one in a new and clear way.
3. Be sensitive to opportunities to say a good word about your faith or about your church to each one.
